Dr. Raymond J. Saloom

Saloom Gets Award at Graduation

An award for his work in obstetrics and gynecology was given to Raymond J. Saloom of Franklin when he was granted a doctor of osteopathy degree by Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Saloom of 114 Main Street, Franklin, Saloom graduated from the borough high school in 1948, attended Johnstown College of the University of Pittsburgh and received a bachelor of science degree from Pitt in 1955. He spent three years in the Counter Intelligence Corps and was discharged with a reserve commission of second lieutenant in military intelligence.

At the Philadelphia college he was active in Phi Sigma Gamma national fraternity which he served as president and trustee. He is married to the former Mary Manno of Johnstown and is the father of three sons.
